

Drew Cooper is the Director of Government Affairs and External Engagement at JobsOhio, a position responsible for leading engagement, outreach, and collaboration with government officials and other key economic development stakeholders. Additionally, Drew works in close collaboration with the JobsOhio Regional Network to drive engagement outcomes across the state. He assists in strategy development, policy education, and plays an instrumental role in helping to increase JobsOhio's visibility and engagement with all stakeholders.

Before joining JobsOhio, Drew spent nearly six years serving in various roles in the Ohio House of Representatives, including as Legislative Aide to State Representative Rick Carfagna, Executive Assistant to the Majority Caucus Chief of Staff, and Senior Constituent Aide. During his time at the House, Drew specialized in helping to develop legislation pertaining to technology and innovation, including in the areas of broadband expansion, computer science, blockchain technology, and others.

Drew is a proud alumnus of The Ohio State University, where he received a Bachelor's Degree in Public Management, Leadership, and Policy from the John Glenn College of Public Affairs. Drew currently resides in downtown Columbus with his wife Nikki, and twin boys Lincoln and Matthew who were born in October 2023.
